

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES; CHARLES A. SANDS RELATES DOINGS

The last week of school, ending with the graduation exercises, has passed and vacation is here. The last three days were occupied in the usual "senior week" exercises, beginning Wednesday, the graduation exercises at Metropolitan Hall on Thursday, and was finished with the usual frolics to be enjoyed on the last day of school. On Friday at noon the whole high school dispersed for a vacation of seven weeks.

Perhaps the readers would like to know something about class day. The first thing on the program was a sophomore stunt played on a dummy, which was supposed to represent the freshmen, ending by the blowing up of the dummy by means of firecrackers.

Next followed a freshman stunt, and, as it must be expected, it was played on the sophomores. It represented the manner through which the sophomores controlled the last election held.

Then followed speeches on the different classes, as follows: Sylvia Doak on Latin, Loretta McLean on drawing, Mary Kauffmann on basketball, Angelo Scampini, James Smith and Byrne McSweeney on chemistry, Charles Sands on bookkeeping.

After this a trip was made to the new high school, in which the president and ex-president of the student body dedicated the new baseball field.

A meeting of all the student body was then held, when the new officers were installed.

At exactly 12:30 o'clock the whole high school gathered in the bookkeeping room to participate in a very enjoyable luncheon given in honor of the graduating class. Toasts and speeches were made by some of the teachers and pupils. The whole luncheon contained in itself a feeling of brotherhood and friendship, a feeling of pride which is a characteristic of our high school.

Credit must be given to the committee for the luncheon, for its forethought and its zealousness in preparing the little feast.

At 2:30 o'clock the whole school and some visitors congregated in the assembly hall and were entertained by a German play, entitled "Der Schimmel," given by the German first and second year classes. The different characters played their parts admirably, and everybody was convinced that the hours spent in studying German were not a failure.

There now only remains to sum up some of the events of particular importance which happened this last year.

In March a play, entitled "What Happened to Jones," was given with great success by the students in Metropolitan Hall.

The joining of the P. A. L. was one of the most notable events, for it brought our high school on a level with the rest of the high schools. Naturally, as all beginners do, we lost many games and won a few, but we are sure that in the coming years success will crown our efforts.

Several interclass debates were held here, which showed the school contained some talented but undeveloped debaters.

With this in view a debating club called the Adelphi Debating Club was organized and officers were elected. The club has mapped out a complete program for the coming year, in which the public will be invited to attend.

Now, gentle readers, do not be surprised if for seven weeks no high school notes will appear in this noted weekly paper, because you must remember that every reporter has his yearly vacation.

GOVERNOR STEPHENS TO VISIT CITY ON JULY 9

Governor Wm. D. Stephens

CALIFORNIA'S CHIEF EXECUTIVE WILL INSPECT INDUSTRIAL PLANTS IN ACTION.

Governor William D. Stephens will visit South San Francisco and inspect the industrial center on Monday, July 9th, as the guest of the Chamber of Commerce.

The San Mateo County Development Association has succeeded in inducing California's chief executive to spend two days in this county, as he has not had the opportunity to be here before.

The itinerary gives Governor Stephens a trip to South San Francisco on the afternoon of July 9th.

The governor is especially desirous of seeing the plant of the Pacific Coast Steel Company in operation. He wants to view the rolling mills that are now turning out parts for battleships and submarines.

A reception committee, consisting of W. J. Martin, N. A. Becker, Judge Cunningham, F. A. Cunningham and W. H. Coffinberry, with other leading citizens, will probably greet the governor.

The plans of the governor's outing, as arranged by the San Mateo County Development Association, call for a motor trip from the Ferry building, San Francisco, to the Peninsula Hotel, San Mateo, on July 9th, where the guest of honor will be given an informal businessman's reception. A luncheon will follow, at which a committee of South San Francisco is to attend. A trip to the industrial district of this city is the next thing in order. The governor will be shown all the large plants here in operation. He will inspect the Western Meat Company's plant, which is at present packing foodstuffs for the United States government for war purposes.

In the evening of the same day Governor Stephens will address a gathering at Redwood City under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce there.

The following day will be spent in making an auto tour of San Mateo county.

Mr. Becker will discuss the saloon question at the M. E. Church Sunday evening.

LOWER S. P. RATES WINS ENTHUSIASM

SHIPOWNERS FOR DEEP WATER CHANNEL HERE

The Industrial Executive Committee of Civic Associations, which is in charge of the battle for lower freight rates, has written the following self-explanatory letter:

San Francisco, June 20, 1917.

The Enterprise, South San Francisco, Cal.: Relative to the extension of the San Francisco switching limits, it is my belief that it is advisable in your next issue to bring out the feasibility of the proposed deep-water facilities at South San Francisco, which are of course dependent upon the extension of the switching limits to and including South San Francisco.

This committee has asked an expression from various steamship companies, and the replies so far received unanimously indorse the idea of deep water at South San Francisco and further stated to be their belief that the plan if consummated will be of vast benefit to San Francisco as well as your city.

The truth of the matter is that the consensus of opinion of every one who has investigated the situation is that the cities of San Francisco and South San Francisco are indissolubly linked, in so far as industrial development is concerned. Mr. H. P. Adams of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce made this statement this morning unqualifiedly.

I am glad to give you herewith transcripts of letters received from various shipping companies.

The Robert Dollar Company have this to say:

"There is no doubt that the location you speak of would be satisfactory, not only to ourselves but to many other importers who handle inward shipments from foreign countries."

The Ship Owners' Association of the Pacific Coast, through its secretary, Mr. W. F. Sullivan, stated that the matter would be placed before the board of directors and

"undoubtedly will receive the hearty support of this association."

Hind, Rolph & Co.:

"Think the move a very good one and if consummated will be of vast benefit, not only to your district but to the whole of San Francisco."

The Gul Mail Steamship Company: "If there is anything we can do in a moral way to advance the object outlined in your letter, you may count on us."

Yours very truly,
Industrial Executive Committee of Civic Association.
D. E. CURLEY, Secretary.

$84,800 LIBERTY BOND SUBSCRIPTION

Cashier Henry Harker of the Bank of South San Francisco reports that this city's subscription to the Liberty Loan Bonds will reach fully $84,800.

It was originally reported that the subscription would reach $72,000, and even this lower figure is a remarkable showing.

APOLOGY, AS DEMANDED, BY MR. C. BONALANZA

In the last issue of The Enterprise our newest staff correspondent and reporter, Mr. Alexis James, a young man of unusual ability, wrote the following item:

"Charles Bonalanza has added to his large realty holdings in South San Francisco by purchasing lot 4 in block 126½. Mr. Bonalanza is a shrewd investor and seldom makes a mistake."

Much to the surprise of our office boy, who is really the major domo of the establishment, Bonalanza appeared Thursday morning with "blood in his eye," objecting to the interjection of the word shrewd in the article about him.

He asked us what we meant by calling him shrewd. We said: "Mr. Bonalanza seldom makes a mistake." Right here we owe him the demanded apology. We said that he is "shrewd." Another apology comes in for good measure.

After the one-sided controversy, we looked up the word shrewd in the Webster's Vest Pocket Dictionary "for constant use." Permit us to quote:

Shrewd—Sagacious.

Sagacious—Quick of thought, judicious.

Judicious—Wise.

Therefore, we say to Mr. Bonalanza that you are not shrewd, you are not sagacious, you are not quick of thought, you are not judicious and you are not wise.

The Enterprise concludes, hoping that Mr. Bonalanza will be shrewd, sagacious, quick of thought and wise after he reads this article, as we said he was in the first place.

SMOKER IN HONOR OF MR. DUKEMAN

(By S. Nyland.)

Saturday evening, June 16th, in Metropolitan Hall, Panama-Pacific Exposition Lodge, No. 5, of A. A. of I. S. and T. W., held a smoker in honor of Mr. Walter Dukeman. Steve Nyland, acting as chairman, presented Mr. Dukeman with a past president's badge. Mr. Nyland praised Mr. Dukeman for his faithful service during his term of office and congratulated him on his promotion to superintendent of the rolling department at the local plant.

The speakers of the evening were Charles E. Meyers, Dr. McGovern, W. J. Dukeman, N. A. Becker and Art Sharkey. Other features were a solo by Fred Schmidt, accompanied by E. Langenbach, a musical act from the open hearth department and Otto Bissett in fancy dancing. B. Holmgren sang an Irish song in Swedish dialect. This was followed by the steel workers' quartet (N. Hennessy, C. W. Baker, E. Morton and Bill Lynch).

The remainder of the evening was given over to boxing contests. There were four-round bouts, the first being between "Cyclone" Ryan, the "pride of the crane yard," and Tom Schmidt of the 22-in. ch mill. The next was between Charles Storek and Al Rogers, followed by Bill Wolfe and Jim Kay. The last bout was the best of the evening. The men fought like professionals. The contestants were Art Sharkey, who fights under the name of "Irishtown Jimmy," and Herman Dahl, the champion amateur middleweight of the Seattle Athletic Club. Bill Doyle, the referee, declared each contest a draw.

A "Dutch lunch," with the customary cigars, concluded the entertainment.

OPEN AIR FETE AIDS RED CROSS

$500 RAISED AT BIG DANCE HERE SATURDAY

(By Harry Donbaugh.)

There may be a few slackers in South San Francisco, but we don't think so. The turn out Saturday night at our street carnival, consisting of dancing, throwing confetti and serpentine, dispensing of the lunch, soda pop, popcorn and innumerable things, all in the interest of the Red Cross, demonstrates fully that the citizens of South San Francisco are as patriotic as any community possibly could be, and when they get behind any movement for a good cause they have no equal.

Mr. N. A. Becker originated this particular program to raise Red Cross funds, and submitted it to Mr. Thomas A. Hickey, chairman of our local chapter, with the assurance that he would guarantee all bills. The outcome was very satisfactory, and we must graciously give the credit to our women and young ladies who, realizing the short space of time to prepare, put their shoulders to the wheel and in practically two days organized their forces, worked like Trojans, and brought to a successful close the best-conducted program that has been produced in our city. The young ladies who sold badges certainly did their part, and we must give credit to our local band, the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, the South City Lumber Company, our soldiers, but if we start in praising those who worked and those who contributed we would have to mention every one in town, and, for fear we might overlook some one, three cheers for all.

The saloons closed at 7 p. m., with one exception. Our chief of police found one rear door open. It seems this individual thought more of the price of a few beers than he did of the Red Cross. We think this an opportunity to deal with a slacker.

Mr. Becker, chairman of this movement, has turned the funds over to Mr. Hickey, along with the various expenses, and the profits will reach about five hundred dollars.

The moving pictures of the Pacific Coast Steel Company and other manufacturers were quite a success, and after the expense of the regular picture that was scheduled for Saturday, with music, lights, etc., was paid, there was quite a nice margin left for the Red Cross. Don't forget that this is Red Cross week. You have all made an excellent start. Keep South San Francisco to the front. We are there now; let's stay on top. Start something to make more money, attend the sewing days, Tuesday and Thursday. Young ladies are needed—there is work for all.

Mr. Becker, as chairman of our carnival, wishes to thank all who made this carnival a success, and especially the ladies and young girls who worked so nobly.

AS YOUNGSTERS SAW IT.

(By Alexis James.)

South City was the scene of much fun and gaiety last Saturday evening. The streets had not been so thronged with people since the three days' carnival at the completion of the street work. The crowd was bent on having a merry time and doing their utmost in the interest of the Red Cross Society.

Small Ladies Are Also Stylish

WHITE georgette crape ruches set with pink rosebuds make this adorable bonnet, which is worn with a navy blue taffeta coat. Shirred three times, the skirt of the coat is attached to an empire yoke and closed with clusters of six novelty buttons. The smile speaks for itself.

Many attractive frocks are made with a bolero jacket, which is frequently of a different color from the frock. For example, a little imported model was made of gray crape and tulle. Alternate bands of the crape and tulle ran lengthwise of the skirt. A bolero, loose at the lower part and with large revers of the crape, was made of changeable taffeta. The sleeves showed the lengthened shoulder line.

Slip on blouses are very much things of the hour, and in one model that is a general favorite the material is arranged with slight fullness on the shoulders and set into line with smocking. The V shaped front is laced across a rounded collar, finishing off the neck. The blouse reaches to the hips—for there is more than a hint of a sports coat in these pretty things—and is loosely girdled to the waist with a sash of the fashioning fabric.

His Wife Was Sitting on the Throne.

Daddy's Bedtime Story—

ILSABILL GOT A CASTLE.

[Adapted from Grimm's Fairy Tales.]

THIS is how the bedtime story began: "A fisherman's wife had a discontented nature, I fear," said daddy. "When she got a cottage she wanted a castle, and the fish-prince who gave her the cottage arranged to give her a castle."

"So when her husband went home after begging this last favor he found his wife standing by the gate of a great castle."

"See," she cried; "isn't this grand?"

"They went into the castle together and found a great many servants there. The rooms were all richly furnished with golden chairs and tables. Behind the castle stood a garden and around it a park half a mile long. It was full of goats and sheep and hares and deer, and in the courtyard were stables and cow houses."

"Heyday!" cried the fisherman. "Cheerful and happy, now we will live together in this beautiful castle the rest of our days."

"Perhaps," said Ilsabill, his wife. "But let us sleep upon it before we decide that."

"So they went to bed in the new castle."

"The next morning when Dame Ilsabill awoke it was broad daylight. She jogged her fisherman with her elbow, saying: 'Get up, husband. Bestir yourself, for we must be rulers of the land.'"

"How can you be queen? Even the enchanted prince can't make you queen of the land," said her surprised husband.

"Say no more about it, but try, as I tell you," said she, "for I will be queen."

"So the fisherman went away very sorrowful to think his wife wanted to be queen. This time the sea looked a dark gray color and was overspread with curling waves and ridges of foam. Said he:

"O man of the sea, hearken to me!
My wife Ilsabill will have her own will
And hath sent me to beg a boon of thee!"

"What will please her now?" inquired the fish-prince.

"Alas," cried the fisherman, "my wife wants to be a queen!"

"Go home," advised the enchanted fish, "for your wife is queen now."

"The fisherman went home. As he neared the castle he saw a troop of soldiers and heard the sound of trumpets and drums, and inside he found his wife sitting upon a throne all covered with diamonds and gold," daddy finished.

"La Vie de Boheme" Next Tuesday at Royal Theatre

Alice Brady in
"LA VIE BOHEME"
WORLD FILM CORP.

Alice Brady, star of the opera and the stage, who made such wonderful impressions by her strong acting in "The Rack," "The Boss," "As Ye Sow," and, more recently, in "Tangled Fates," is the attraction coming at the Royal Theatre on Tuesday, June 26th, when a big World Film will be shown. The story is based on Henri Murger's famous French book, "La Vie de Boheme," which for several years was the biggest seller in France.

Mimi, a foundling, is taken from the convent to an inn kept by M. Ducros. There she receives forced attentions from one of the guests, and swift punishment is administered to him by Rudolphe Durandin, the nephew of the wealthy M. Durandin. Rudolphe and his uncle quarrel bitterly, owing to the young man's refusal to marry Madame de Rouvre, a wealthy widow and friend of his uncle. Rudolphe's quarrel is followed by a meeting between the young man and several residents of the Latin Quarter in Paris. In their mode of living he sees his ideal life, and in Mimi his ideal woman.

Rudolphe again meets Mimi, as his neighbor, and falls in love with her. Musette and Marcel, a painter, are separated by a rich young viscount, for whom Musette deserts Marcel. Musette meets Mimi and introduces her to a rich young man, but Mimi remains loyal to Rudolphe, although he is led to believe otherwise, and, in a rage, leaves her.

Rudolphe's uncle has learned of his infatuation for Mimi, and the uncle writes a letter to Mimi, informing her that she is ruining Rudolphe's chances in life. Mimi, after Rudolphe's desertion, still remains loyal to him, believing that the uncle is the cause.

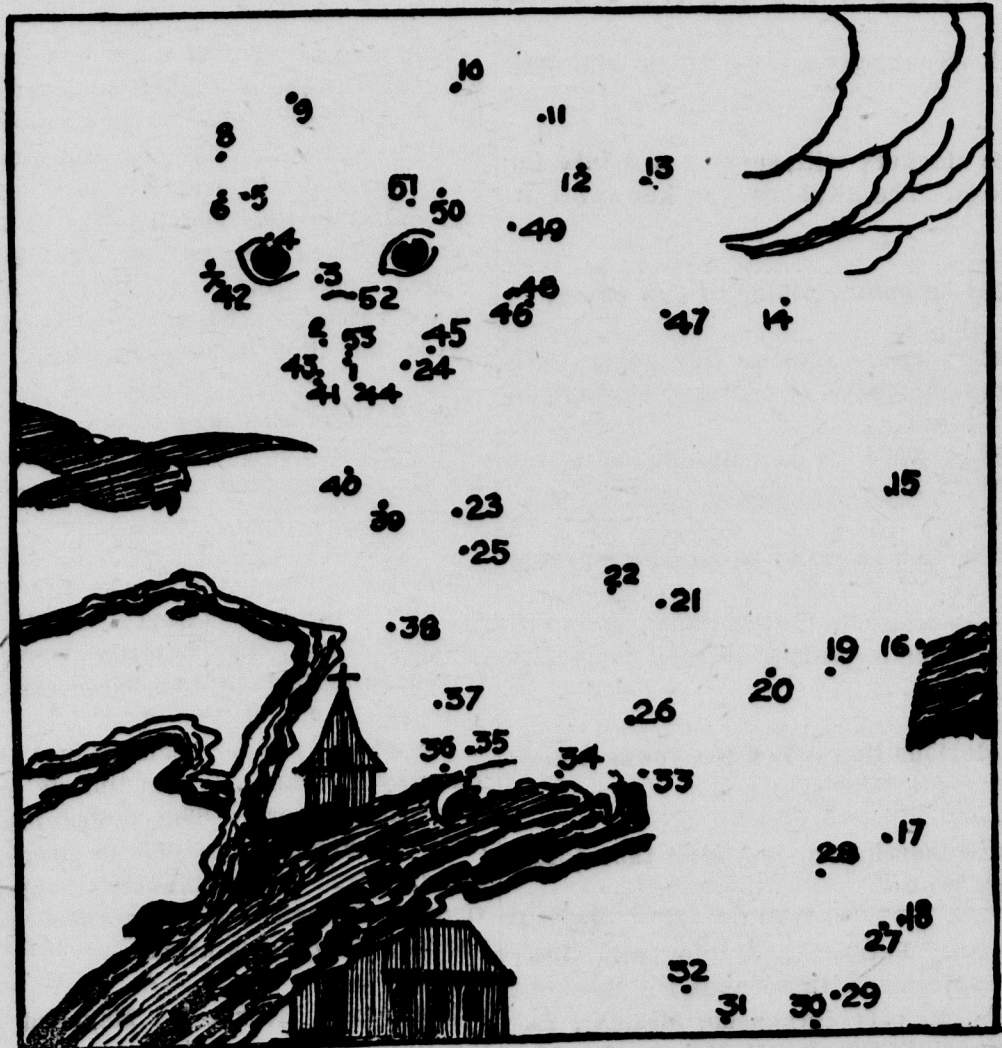

During the progress of a ball given by Madame de Rouvre, attended by Rudolphe and Marcel, Mimi, weary and hungry, accidentally finds herself in front of Madame de Rouvre's home. She is discovered by Schaunard, and encounters Madame de Rouvre, who tells the girl that she will ruin the position of Rudolphe. Mimi runs away determined to end it all, but before she can do so, she is taken to a hospital.

Before she has recovered, Mimi recalls what she heard at Madame de Rouvre's, and knows that Rudolphe still loves her. Feeling that life will not be long for her, she makes her way to the old home where she had been so very happy with Rudolphe. Musette, returning to Marcel, finds Mimi and brings the four men to see her. Combined, they have not sufficient money to buy her the necessary medicine, so each determines to raise the money himself. They also try to please Mimi with a muff for which she has always yearned, to keep her hands warm.

Rudolphe goes to his uncle; Marcel takes his painting to a pawnbroker, where he meets Schaunard, who parts with his horn and favorite pipe, while Colline pawns his few beloved books. They raise enough money to buy the muff, and return to the room, to find Rudolphe and his uncle and Madame de Rouvre, who have repented and are sorry for their selfishness. Mimi passes away in the midst of her loyal friends, with the realization that Rudolphe has always loved her, and that her dearest friends gave their little to make her happy at the end.

Playing Fair With the County

A few days ago the Board of Supervisors, acting upon a request from the County Defense Council, decided to have printed for each precinct in the county elaborately decorated posters bearing the names of all the men who registered for the army draft in each precinct. Each of the twenty-two registration precincts was to have its own poster, and, as some of the precincts had larger registrations than others, it was planned to make the posters of different sizes.

As we stated before, the supervisors ordered the posters at the request of the defense council, and were acting with the best of intentions in so doing.

But when the order was placed, the two printing shops in the county which received the order soon discovered that the whole job—including the making of patriotic cuts, the purchase of stock and the printing itself—would cost in the neighborhood of $400.

As the work had been ordered by a vote of the board, the printing shops could easily have proceeded with the work without saying anything about the price, and could have made a good profit on the job. But instead of going ahead with the work, they called attention to the fact that the posters were going to prove very costly to the county, and suggested that the supervisors reconsider the matter. They pointed out that the posters would not be read by many persons, that they would be torn down and carried away as keepsakes, and that the county would get better value for its money by having all the papers in the county publish the lists of names.

As a result of these suggestions the supervisors did reconsider the matter, and decided to have each paper in the county publish the names of the men registered in its own township. For publishing these lists in ten different papers, the cost to the county will be considerably under $250. And now the posters are either to be printed on a much more simple and inexpensive plan, or will not be printed at all.

All of which goes to show that the printers who received the original poster order played fair with the county. They realized that the job was not worth $400 to the county, and felt that they had no more right than anybody else to "bleed" the public treasury.

What the supervisors have now done with the registration lists should be done with the county's delinquent tax list. Instead of having the delinquent list published each year in a different newspaper, the delinquent tax list for the first township should be published by the newspapers of that township, the delinquencies in the second township should be published in the papers of that township, and so on. Under the present scheme, the county doesn't get its money's worth.

There was a bill introduced during the last legislature to make this change in the manner of publishing county delinquent tax lists, but we have not yet heard whether it succeeded in becoming a law.—San Mateo News.

Keep the Dollars Moving!

Business is activity. Stagnation means decay. As there can be no life in stagnant waters, just so there can be none in stagnant business.

Get this fact well in mind: Business activity comes not from hoarding, but from spending.

What would the world do without its spendthrifts? They may carry a virtue to an extreme, but as to the effect on business, better far than that the hoarding of the miser.

We are urged to rally to the colors; we are urged to enter the army of the furrows; we are urged to consecrate our all upon the altar of our country, and we are urged to PRACTICE THE STRICTEST KIND OF ECONOMY.

The advice is conflicting. Our advisers should employ a different term from "economy." It is right that we eliminate waste—wanton waste that brings good to none.

But quit spending? Never! That way lies business stagnation, want, and ultimate panic.

Imagine a community entirely independent of the outside world. It has a combined capital of $100,000, which is sufficient to carry on all of its business. But the cry of "hard times" goes out, purses are closed, and the result is inevitable.

The world is composed of communities. In and between these communities the public life-blood (gold) must flow if life be sustained. But stop the flow of that life-blood and industrial decay and death is the inevitable result.

We must earn, and keep on earning. And equally as important, we must spend, and keep on spending. Not waste, not reckless extravagance, but systematic, intelligent spending, that shall keep the golden life-blood bounding through the commercial arteries of the nation, stimulating every nook and corner of the land to a well-nigh superhuman exertion.

We must keep the armies of dollars moving if we would keep the living armies progressing. The idleness of one will insure the impotence of the other.

Russia is busily engaged in wondering whether it is getting on or getting off.

When in doubt, kick the doubt aside and go ahead.

Idle rumors are frequently too industrious.

The idle rich will be anything but idle when they get to France.

No, the kaiser is not going crazy. He's already a maniac.

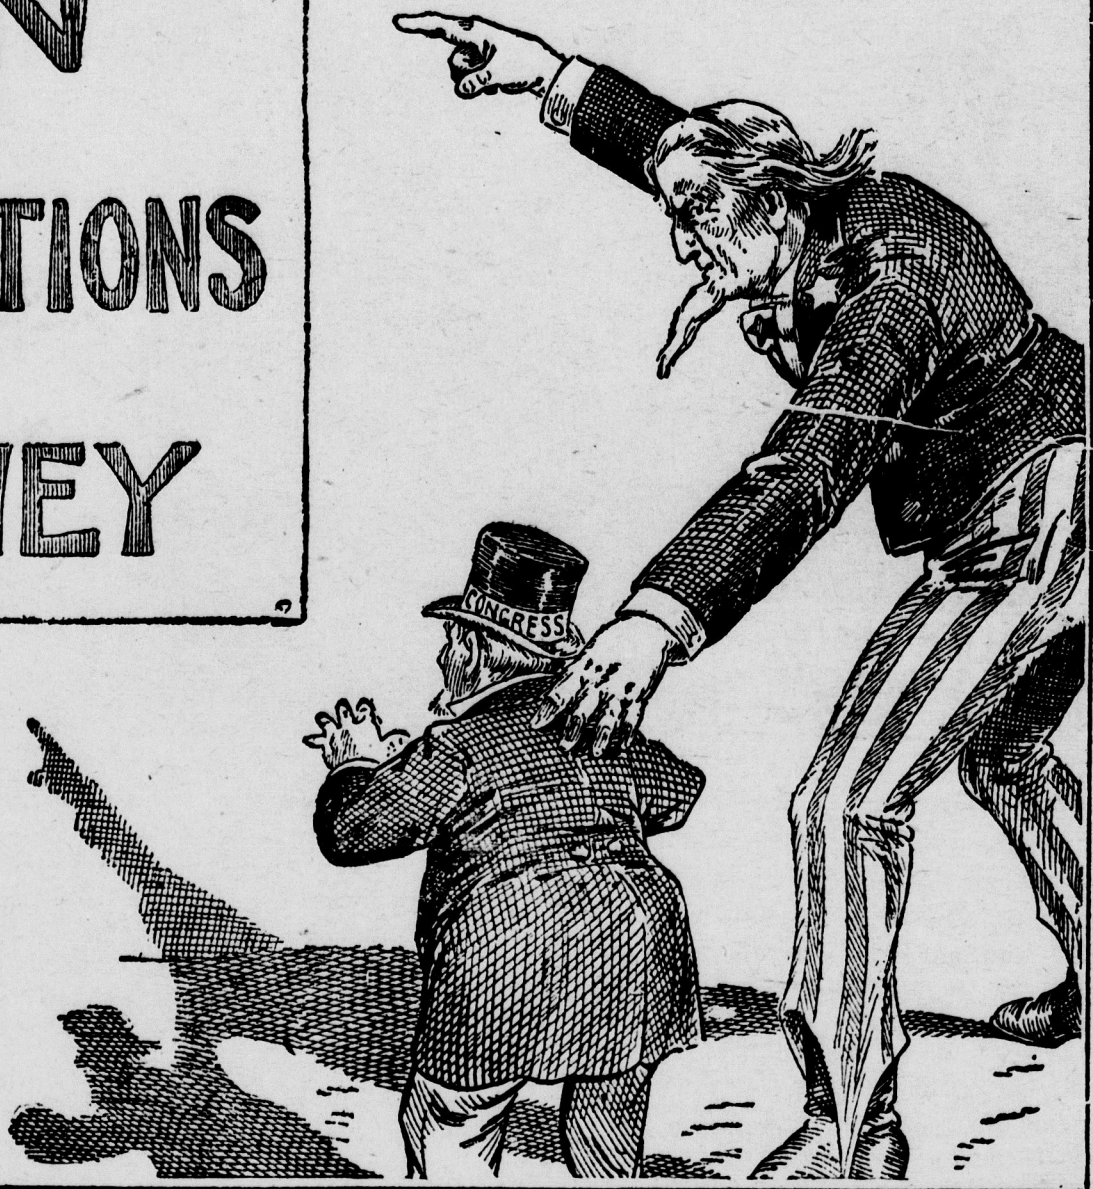

From the state of public mind, one would think it just a summer picnic.

"A HIGH TYPE OF CITIZEN" PRAISED

"State Treasurer Friend Richardson Being Urged by Thousands of Friends for Governor."

The Marin Independent of San Rafael, in its last issue in an editorial under the above heading says:

"One of the state officials of California who has won the respect and gratitude of the citizens and the taxpayers of the state by the efficient management of the office of State Treasurer, is Friend William Richardson, who is being urged by thousands of admiring friends in California to permit his name to go before the people of the state of California for Governor at the next state primary election.

"Friend Richardson requires no introduction to the people of this part of California at our hands, for he has proved himself a straightforward, capable official in the handling of the state printing office, to which office he was appointed by Governor Hiram Johnson. From chaos and mismanagement, Mr. Richardson in the short space of a few months raised the office up to the highest standard of efficiency and cut down the cost of operation nearly 40 per cent. Friend Richardson is not only a shrewd business man of big range, but he is a man of remarkable executive ability. Best of all, he is what bankers term the safe and sane man of affairs.

"He is just the type of man that will make excellent timber for the office of chief executive of the state of California, and it is on that account that thousands of his friends and admirers in California are urging him to permit his name to go before the people of the state for the office of Governor. His friends are legion, for they have watched his course in public office and found him to be an honest, persevering, clean, moral man, a high type of citizen, and one that can handle the reins of chief executive effectively and efficiently."

Mr. Richardson is nationally known as the president of the California Press Association.

Pershing, of course, expects to be a lieutenant-general or a field marshal. But we don't.

About the time they reach France the slackers will develop a mania for the pleasing household duty of peeling spuds. The kitchens, you know, are in the rear.

Oh, yes; Liberty Bonds will be accepted on subscriptions to this paper.

To be sure, we have clapped a voluntary censorship on this paper. We publish only the truth, and often we are too charitable to tell only that much.

Between sleeping an hour longer and waking up and finding ourselves famous, we wouldn't hesitate a minute. We'd hog 'em both.

No, Miranda, it isn't necessary to act foolish in order to convince people that you are. They know.

In his eagerness to obtain peace the kaiser is willing to give away any portion of the earth that does not belong to him.

Lord, won't the old baldheads have a glorious time when the young bloods have all marched away to the war!

If you are determined not to pay your subscription, just lend that dollar to the government. It needs it as badly as we do.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS TOLD IN BRIEF

Ben Taylor, who recently joined the engineering corps, left last Sunday for Tacoma. Mr. Taylor has resided here for several years and has made many friends.

Joe Walker has relinquished his position at the Western Meat Company and is now in the employ of the Pacific Coast Steel Company.

The men's smoker given by Panama-Pacific Exposition Lodge, No. 5, was held in Metropolitan Hall, Saturday evening, June 16th.

Miss Viola Golding and Miss Mimi Cushing were visitors here on Sunday. Miss Cushing left Thursday to visit her sister in Washington, D. C.

Father Moran gave the boys of his church a picnic in Tanforan Park, San Bruno, on Saturday. The boys played baseball, etc., and prizes were given for racing, singing and speaking.

The Rev. W. T. Miller of St. Paul's M. E. Church has organized an archery club for the boys. He is planning for hikes and other amusements that will interest them.

The street carnival that was held Saturday evening in the interest of the Red Cross Society proved to be a great success. The dancing and music were enjoyed. The crowd was large and enthusiastic. Many young ladies were dressed as nurses and sold badges, serpentine, confetti, etc., and tended refreshment booths. It is estimated that about $500 was raised.

Tony Signorelli was taken sick at Reno and has been rushed down here. Dr. Dolley operated on him Thursday morning.

Mr. Carpenter, who works for the Moran Company, was hurt by a falling beam Sunday. His injuries were a fractured collarbone and three ribs.

The Red Cross Society met on Tuesday afternoon in the library and commenced work. The ladies made pads and bandages for use in surgical cases. Mrs. E. Coffinberry supervises the work. More workers are needed; the need is urgent.

Direct Appeal to the Employees of the Pacific Coast Steel Company

(On the Back of Pacific Coast Steel Company's Statements.)

IF IT COSTS THE FOLLOWING TO RUN THE SALOONS IN SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO, DOES IT PAY TO KEEP THEM?

24 licenses, at $400 per year each	$ 9,600.00 per year
24 Saloon rents, water and lights, at $55 per month	15,840.00 "
24 Bartenders, saloonkeepers and janitors, at $9.50 per day	88,220.00 "
Incidentals at $2 per day	17,520.00 "

It costs approximately twice this amount to buy liquors.. $252,360.00 "

It is fair to assume 33% profit is made on this, or a staggering sum of 124,918.00 "

Making the huge total of.....$503,458.00 "

$503,458 would buy your wife 50,346 pair of shoes at $10 per pair, or 100,692 pair of shoes for the children at $5 per pair.

$503,458 would buy clothing (estimated at $50 per child per year) for 10,069 children—which is more than the drinking man can afford for his children and drink.

$503,458 would buy groceries for 1,049 families, allowing $40 per month per family.

$503,458 would buy 201 houses and lots at $2,500 each.

$503,458 would build ten fifty thousand dollar churches.

$503,458 would dress all the people of South San Francisco three times each year.

STOP, LOOK and LISTEN—IS BOOZE ANY GOOD? NO.

Out of a population of approximately 3,500 in South San Francisco, 66% probably are women and children who never patronize saloons; 15% of the balance are men who never enter saloons, leaving around 1,012 men who spend this $503,458 in the saloons, or an average of $497.50 per drinking man per year.

Lots of men think they are better than their wives. How many of these men would tolerate for a moment their wives spending this amount of money for the indulgence of their selfish desires?

Do you not think the amount of money you spend annually for drink would be better invested in a house and lot?

Just stop for a moment and think what it would mean if 201 houses were to be built every year in South San Francisco. Two or three years would build another South San Francisco.

Don't you think your wives and children would be happier, healthier and more contented if this money were expended on them instead of BOOZE?

If you should look down the streets of South San Francisco you will see a swaying, swinging, staggering line. It is not an "earthquake," but a "Boozequake" that has been shaking this town for many, many years.

Without the question of a doubt South San Francisco has more saloons per capita and a greater consumption of liquor per capita than any other community on God's green earth. One saloon for every 146 of the population.

A Boozer is a Slacker anywhere and everywhere—even at home. You do not want your wife to be a slacker. WHY BE ONE YOURSELF?

Every family seemed to be represented, as well as visitors from Colma and Daly City. The streets were beautifully illuminated with colored lights and large reflectors. Pretty soon the streets were festooned with serpentine streamers and confetti thrown by the merry-makers.

The South City band was there, led by Mr. Cappelli. Was there ever such a band? It made even the oldest feel young and wish to join the dancers.

Moved by Trustee Healy, seconded by Trustee Holston and regularly carried, that the city recorder be given an increase of salary of $15 per month.

SOUTH CITY INVITED TO WITNESS BIG SHAM BATTLE

An opportunity to study some of the methods of modern warfare which are to be used by the United States army on the battlefields of Europe in the great world war will be given the people of California to-morrow (Sunday), June 24th, when a monstrous sham battle will be staged at Golden Gate Park under the auspices of Lieutenant-Colonel John H. Gardner, head of the San Francisco district, army recruiting service.

Residents of South San Francisco have been invited to attend.

This extraordinary attraction promises to be a very spectacular event. Stone walls, barbed wire entanglements and gaping trenches will figure among the obstacles which will be surmounted by the battling troops. A contingent of 600 members of the California Coast Artillery Corps will be divided into two divisions for the fight, and the invading division will be headed by the big tracklayer tank, invented by C. L. Best of the Best Gas Traction Company, and which may occupy a prominent place in actual warfare.

This tank was turned over to the government some time ago, after it was tested at Parkside and found capable of traveling through several feet of water and mud, over sand dunes and steep embankments, pushing down before it brick walls, fences and the small trees. Several changes in the exterior construction of the tank have been made by the inventor since that first demonstration, so that the appearance is materially different. These changes were recommended by army officers, in order that the machine might be more practical on the battlefield. During the past few weeks the tank has been displayed in San Francisco to stimulate recruiting and it has attracted wide attention wherever it has been shown.

It is expected that the sham battle will be witnessed by approximately one hundred thousand people. Tons of blank ammunition will be exploded and the sound of the pretended bombardment will undoubtedly be heard for many miles. The heavy guns on the juggernaut will use black powder blanks.

Life in the camp and on the battlefield will be depicted in realistic fashion. The trench scenes will be enacted as nearly as possible like those in Europe. Demonstrations of the work of the medical corps, following close behind the firing line, will be fine lessons in first aid to the injured service. The stretcher-bearers will carry from the fields the bodies of the men who will appear to have been killed, and everything possible will be done to make the scenes seem real.

A number of moving picture concerns are planning to photograph the battle scenes, so that the American people who will be unable to witness the spectacle, can through the "movie weeklies" study carefully the military tactics which are to be put into play by the fighting men of the country who are now being assembled.

This demonstration is to be staged in an effort to interest the young men of the country in army maneuvers, in the hope that recruits may be secured at a more rapid rate.

PRESIDENT CALLS FOR VOLUNTEERS, AGED 18 TO 40 YEARS

PROCLAMATION DESIGNED TO FILL REGULAR ARMY.

President Wilson issued a proclamation designating the week of June 23d-30th as recruiting week for the regular army, and called upon unmarried men without dependents to enroll for war service in order that the ranks of the regulars might be filled promptly.

The proclamation follows:

"Proclamation by the President:

"I hereby designate the period of June 23d to June 30th, next, as recruiting week for the regular army, and call upon unmarried men between the ages of 18 and 40 years who have no dependents and who are not engaged in pursuits vitally necessary to the prosecution of the war, to present themselves for enlistment during the week herein designated, to the number of 70,000.

"WOODROW WILSON."

The President's action was taken at the request of army officials, who have been seriously concerned over the slow rate of recruiting for the regular army.

It had been hoped that the regular service could be brought to its whole war strength of approximately 300,000 men by June 30th, which would have permitted the war department to carry out its plan in regard to the training of all of the forces to be raised and also as to the dispatch of armies to France. For several days, however, the average enrollment for the army per day has been little more than 1000 men, instead of the 5000 or more the department hoped to secure.

Wednesday's recruiting bulletin shows that since April 1st, 121,365 men have been enrolled as war volunteers of the 183,898 necessary to bring the service to war strength.

Recruiting was at low ebb again Tuesday, with a total of 1178 men obtained. New York led with 187 and Pennsylvania came second with 140. Nebraska fell off on its previous daily average, only eight men being secured. This will postpone a day or two the filling of Nebraska's quota.

BOXING CONTEST

The South City Athletic Club will furnish the local fans with the best card of the season next Monday evening, June 25th.

Promoter Jess Monize has arranged six good bouts, with plenty of pep and action.

The main event brings together Eddie White of Colma and Young Sam Langford of San Francisco. Both boys are clever and hard hitters and should be a great go.

The special event will be a hummer when Joe Rose of Ocean View meets Jim Horner. The pair met before and went four rounds to a draw. At the conclusion, fans claimed it to be the fastest bout ever witnessed in South City.

William Perkins of San Mateo meets Red Steward of San Jose. Perkins is going good right now and it looks like a good fight.

Dave Rodgers, local boy, meets Bobby Evans of the Association Club. Rodgers has a "K. O." in either glove and will make Evans step.

Al Costa, also a local boy, goes on with Eddie Clabby. Costa meets a good boy in Clabby and the bout should be an interesting one.

In the curtain raiser the Fighting Bootblack meets Kid Burns.

Wednesday the seniors of the local high school turned over $11.65 to the Red Cross organization in this city. This was the sum derived from the sale of the punch at their senior ball, which was a great success, last Friday evening.
